I Introduction

- 1.1 St Peter's School, York comprises of St Peter's 2-8 (for pupils aged 2 to 8 years), St Peter's 8-13 (for pupils aged 8 to 13 years) and St Peter's 13-18 (for pupils aged 13 to 18 years), collectively referred to in this policy as the School unless otherwise stated.
- 1.2 The School believes that effective relationships and sex education is essential for young people to make responsible and well-informed decisions about their lives. The aim of relationships and sex education is to help prepare pupils for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of adult life, as well as helping them understand the importance of forming positive relationships, making good choices and where to get help before adulthood. The School recognises that to embrace the challenges of creating a happy and successful adult life, pupils need knowledge that will enable them to make informed decisions about their wellbeing, health and relationships and to build self-efficacy. These subjects can support children and young people to develop resilience, to know how and when to ask for help, and to know where to access support.
- 1.3 The School recognises that the role of parents in the development of their children's understanding about relationships is vital. Parents are first teachers of their children. They have the most significant influence in enabling their children to grow to maturity and to form healthy relationships. The School's relationships and sex education programme is intended to complement and support the role of parents and carers in educating their children about sexuality and relationships.
- 1.4 The School recognises an aim of this policy is to help to create a culture of safety, equality and protection.

7 Definition of relationships and sex education

- 7.1 Relationships education for primary education and relationships and sex education for secondary education is part of the PSHE curriculum in the context of a broad and balanced curriculum, intended to provide what children and young people need to know about how to be safe and healthy, and how to manage their academic, personal and social lives in a positive way. It comprises learning about the nature of marriage and civil partnership and their importance for family life and the bringing up of children; safety in forming and maintaining relationships; the characteristics of healthy relationships and how relationships may affect physical and mental health and wellbeing. The education provided is age appropriate and developmentally appropriate and is taught sensitively and inclusively, with respect to the backgrounds and beliefs of pupils and parents, with the aim of providing pupils with the knowledge they need of the law.
- 7.2 Sex education, as part of relationships and sex education in secondary schools includes also the teaching about intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health. It also includes what the law says about sex, relationships and young people, as well as broader safeguarding issues and using technology.
- 7.3 Sex education is not compulsory in primary schools. The School science curriculum includes reference to the subject coverage in related areas including the main external body parts, the human body as it grows from birth to old age (including puberty) and the reproduction in some plants and animals. In addition, the School delivers sex education for primary age pupils covering how a baby is made as set out in Appendix I.

8 Curriculum content

- 8.1 By the end of primary education, relationships education will include teaching about families and people who care; caring friendships; respectful relationships; online relationships and being safe. The School scheme of work for PSHE details what each topic covers and when each topic is taught. See Appendix I for a broad overview of the curriculum map.
- 8.2 In addition to relationships education, the School will teach sex education including teaching contained in the science curriculum policy about the main external body parts, the human body as it grows from birth to old age (including puberty) and the reproduction in some plants and animals and how a baby is made.
- 8.3 By the end of secondary education, relationships and sex education will include teaching to develop knowledge on the topics specified for primary. In addition, the curriculum provision will include teaching about families; respectful relationships, including friendships; issues around being online and the media; being safe and intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health.

9 Equality

- 9.1 The School will ensure that it considers the makeup of the student body, including the gender and the age range of the pupils and take this into account in the design and teaching of sex and relationships education. The School will consider whether it is appropriate or necessary to put in place additional support for pupils with particular protected characteristics.

- 9.2 The School will be alive to issues such as sexual violence and sexual harassment, sexism, homophobia and stereotypes and will take positive action to build a culture of respect where such issues will not be tolerated and any incidences are identified and tackled.
- 9.3 Students with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND): relationships and sex education will be accessible for all pupils and to ensure this, teaching will be differentiated and personalised. The School is aware that some pupils are more vulnerable to exploitation, bullying and other issues due to the nature of their SEND and will take this into consideration when designing and teaching these subjects.
- 9.4 Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender (LGBT): The School will ensure that the teaching of relationships and sex education is sensitive and age appropriate in content and will consider when it is appropriate to teach pupil about LGBT. This content will be fully integrated into the programmes of study rather than delivered as a stand-alone unit or lesson.
- 9.5 The School is aware of its legal duties, including those pursuant to the Equality Act 2010, which makes it unlawful for the proprietor of the schools to discriminate against, harass or victimise a pupil or potential pupil in prescribed circumstances, including:
- 9.5.1 in the way it provides education for pupils;
 - 9.5.2 in the way it provides pupils access to any benefit, facility or service; or
 - 9.5.3 subjecting them to any other detriment.
- 9.6 The School is also aware of its duties to teach about equality issues and to ensure teaching at the School does not discriminate against pupils.

10 Curriculum delivery

St Peter's 2-8

At St Peter's 2-8 the relationships and sex education curriculum is delivered through PSHE and Science.

PSHE is taught by the deputy head, and Science by class teachers. Assemblies address some issue including friendship and healthy relationships. In addition visitors such as the NSPCC give talks on particular areas e.g. online safety.

Teaching is delivered using age appropriate resources such as clips, books and discussions and lessons are taught in classes.

All activities are delivered sensitively with the age, stages and circumstances of the pupils in mind.

St Peter's 8-13

At St Peter's 8-13, the teaching of the relationships and sex education curriculum is delivered through science and PSHEE.

Science is taught by subject specialists throughout the school and PSHEE is taught by form teachers, the Deputy Head, the Head of PSHEE and the School Nurse (dependent on year and topic).

Various teaching methods are used for this subject, including:

- Collapsed timetable sessions for the whole year delivered by the members of staff.
- Group or class discussion.
- Video clips.
- Power Points.
- Worksheets.
- Question and answer sessions.

Science and PSHE lessons are usually taught in mixed gender groups. However, some PSHE sessions in J3 and J4 are taught in single gender groups.

Ground rules are established at the start of each year in both science and PSHE. These rules are adapted as necessary (according to the needs of each form and year) but in general terms, they include the following:

- Correct scientific terminology will be used at all times, not slang.
- All discussion and questions in the classroom will be kept general, not specific to a particular person.
- Teachers have an expectation of a mature response from pupils.
- There is no such thing as a silly question.
- Teachers are always willing to speak to pupils outside the classroom if they would like to ask a question in private.

Science and PSHE lessons are tailored to suit particular forms, so all pupils can take part in sessions and can access materials.

St Peter's 13-18

At St Peter's, the teaching of the relationships and sex education curriculum is delivered primarily through CPSHE lessons.

This is supplemented by:

- Assemblies
- External speakers
- Workshops
- Tutor time
- Events, for example 'Mental Health Week'

CPSHEE is taught by teachers and staff who have agreed their willingness to assist in the delivery of this area of the timetable. CPSHEE lessons are taught in mixed gender groups.

Ground rules are established at the start of each year in CPSHEE through a partnership agreement. These rules are adapted as necessary (according to the needs of each group) but in general terms, they include the following:

- Respecting the opinions and value of everyone in the room
- The right to pass if someone doesn't want to participate
- Keep the conversation in the room/ confidentiality
- Not making assumptions and judgements

- Challenging sexist, homophobic, racist and disablist assumptions and avoid making them ourselves
- Teachers are always willing to speak to pupils outside the classroom if they would like to ask a question in private.

The curriculum is reactive to the young people at St Peter's and will adapt to include additional lessons/ modules dependent on arising situations and needs within the School.

11 Safeguarding, reports of abuse and confidentiality

- 11.1 The School will follow Keeping children safe in education (KCSIE) and will ensure children are taught about safeguarding, including about how to stay safe online. Open forums to discuss potentially sensitive issues will be made available to children. Children will also be made aware of how to raise concerns or make a report and how any report will be handled.
- 11.2 Teachers will follow the School's policy on confidentiality between themselves and students and manage an appropriate level of confidentiality. Students should be reassured that their best interests will be maintained, but teachers cannot offer or promise absolute confidentiality. Teachers will follow the School's safeguarding policy if a child protection issue is raised.
- 11.3 The School will encourage students to talk to their parents or carers and support them to do so. The School will also inform students of sources of confidential help, for example, the School nurse, counsellor, GP or local young person's advice service.
- 11.4 Where the school invites external agencies to support the delivery of these subjects, the School will agree in advance of the session how a safeguarding report will be dealt with by the external visitor.

12 Physical health and mental wellbeing

The aim of teaching pupils about physical health and mental wellbeing is to give them the information that they need to make good decisions about their own health and wellbeing. It should enable them to recognise what is normal and what is an issue in themselves and others and, when issues arise, know how to seek support as early as possible from appropriate sources.

Physical health and mental wellbeing are interlinked, and it is important that pupils understand that good physical health contributes to good mental wellbeing, and vice versa.

It is important for schools to promote pupils' self-control and ability to self-regulate, and strategies for doing so. This will enable them to become confident in their ability to achieve well and persevere even when they encounter setbacks or when their goals are distant, and to respond calmly and rationally to setbacks and challenges. This integrated, whole-school approach to the teaching and promotion of health and wellbeing has a potential positive impact on behaviour and attainment.

Effective teaching should aim to reduce stigma attached to health issues, in particular those to do with mental wellbeing. Schools should engender an atmosphere that encourages openness. This will mean that pupils feel they can check their understanding and seek any necessary help and advice as they gain knowledge about how to promote good health and wellbeing.

13 Parents' and carers' participation

- 13.1 The School recognises that parents and carers are the first teachers of their children and that they play a vital role in:
- 13.1.1 teaching their children about relationships and sex;
 - 13.1.2 maintaining the culture and ethos of the family;
 - 13.1.3 helping their children cope with the emotional and physical aspects of growing up;
 - 13.1.4 preparing them for the challenges and responsibilities that sexual maturity brings.
- 13.2 The School will consult with parents and carers in the development and review of this policy and on the content of the relationship and sex education programmes. See Appendix 2.
- 13.3 The School will communicate to parents what will be taught and when in delivering relationships and sex education. See Appendix 1.
- 13.4 Parents and carers of secondary age children have the right to request that their child be withdrawn from some or all of sex education delivered as part of relationships and sex education at secondary age except for those parts included in the science curriculum, which cover the biological aspects of human growth and reproduction. The School will make alternative arrangements for students in each case so that they receive appropriate, purposeful education during the period of withdrawal.
- 13.5 Following a request to withdraw in relation to a secondary age child, the Head or appropriate senior member of staff as determined by the Head will request a discussion with the child's parents or carers, and where appropriate, with the child. Following that discussion, except in exceptional circumstances, the School should respect the parents' or carers' request to withdraw the child, up to three terms before the child turns 16. After that point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than be withdrawn, the School should make arrangements to provide the child with sex education during one of those terms. There may be exceptional circumstances where the Head may want to take into account a pupil's specific needs arising from their special education needs or disability into account when making this decision. Any discussions and decisions will be documented by the School.
- 13.6 Parents and carers of primary age children have the right to request that their child be withdrawn from some or all of sex education delivered as part of relationships and sex education at primary age except for those parts included in the science curriculum.
- 13.7 The Head will automatically grant a request to withdraw a pupil from any sex education delivered in primary schools, other than as part of the science curriculum.
- 13.8 The parents' and carers' right to request that their child be withdrawn from some or all of sex education will be communicated to them by the School. There is no right to withdraw from relationships education.

14 Consultation

- 14.1 This policy has been produced in consultation with parents and carers and seeks to take into account the views of teachers and pupils and the School community.

15 Monitoring, evaluation and review

- 15.1 The Heads of PSHE and Heads of Science will ensure that:
- 15.1.1 all schemes of work are reviewed on a regular basis to assess the content and that the content as defined within the policy is accurate and conforms to current guidance;
 - 15.1.2 colleagues within their department or staff delivering this curriculum are familiar with this policy and ensure that delivery conforms to the guidelines set down in the policy and its appendices;
 - 15.1.3 staff teaching any part of this programme are asked to review content and delivery. The outcomes of this evaluation are used to inform future amendments to the teaching programme, consultation with parents and any training and development needs;
 - 15.1.4 any review of the programme includes an opportunity for the views of parents to be considered;
 - 15.1.5 the content of all outside agencies' presentations is evaluated to ensure that it is in line with this policy.

Appendix 2 Parents' consultation

General principles

Teaching about relationships is nothing new for schools – in this School relationships education is already covered through PSHEE education, an established curriculum subject.

We will consult with parents when developing and reviewing our policies for relationships education and relationships and sex education, which help inform our decisions on when and how certain curriculum content is covered and how it is delivered. Our consultation will include giving the space and time for parents to input, ask questions, share concerns and for the School to decide the way forward.

We will listen to parents' views, and then make a reasonable decision as to how to proceed. What is taught, and how, is ultimately a decision for the School and consultation does not provide a parental veto on curriculum content or delivery.

We may adapt our timescales, process and content to respond to the needs of the School.
